

Rifles Crack As Peace Parley In Erin Is Resumed

Rebels and Loyal Soldiers Reported Fighting in Many Parts of Dublin

ATTACK PHONE EXCHANGE

Headquarters of Free State Troops Assaulted by Republican Mutineers

By George MacDonald
By United Press Leased Wire
Dublin — The roar of rifle and revolver fire through Dublin streets ushered in the day on which Collins and DeValera were to resume their peace conference.

From many different parts of the city sounds of firing could be heard and reports reached free state headquarters that loyal outposts had been attacked.

No considerable movement of either rebel or free state troops was apparent, most of the firing, apparently taking place from fixed posts.

Arthur Griffith, Collins, DeValera and some of the clergy were to meet in an effort to effect a truce in southern Ireland.

REBELS BEATEN OFF
Rebel assaults upon the free state headquarters, the town hall, the telephone exchange and upon provisional government patrols in Dublin early Thursday were beaten off, after heavy exchanges of rifle fire.

Volleys of rifle fire were exchanged between rebel bands and riflemen in the center of the city, mainly children, were said to have been killed.

Part of the town where the explosion occurred is in ruins.

FARMERS CARRY
PHONE PROTEST
TO COMMISSION

Petition Declares Telephone Rates in Greenville and Ellington Unfair

Alleging that rates charged by the Wisconsin Telephone Co. to patrons in the towns of Ellington and Greenville are unreasonable and discriminatory and that the regulations and practices are also unreasonable, bank residents of the two towns, through Fred V. Heinemann, their attorney, have petitioned the Wisconsin railroad commission for an investigation of the complaint. Notice of the investigation, which is to start within a few days, was served on the telephone company on Wednesday.

The petitioners ask the commission for an opportunity to be heard in the matter.

It is said, is an outgrowth of a controversy of long standing between the telephone company and residents of Greenville and Ellington. A large number of farmers in the two towns had their telephones removed rather than abide by the company's rules.

CITY METHODS NOT FOR RURAL SCHOOL

Courses of Study Should be Adapted to Student, Says Educator

By United Press Leased Wire
Eau Claire — "Don't teach the country boy with city methods if you want him to stay on the farm and build up the agricultural interests of the nation. Don't give him amo, amas, amat when he had rather be splicing rope."

This was the message given at Thursday morning session of the all-normal school conference being held here by the Wisconsin Association of Normal School Teachers by Prof. B. G. Holden, Chicago, head of the educational department of the International Harvester company. The big mistake he said, being made in rural school teaching today was the utilization of city methods and ideas in these schools.

He also contended that the courses of study in the schools of today should be adapted to the student and not the student adapted to the course of study.

Prof. Holden was the main speaker at the forenoon session.

The conference closes Thursday afternoon with a session at which Dean M. F. Hager of the University of Minnesota will take the leading part. The attendance today reached three hundred and fifty.

KELLER IS DIRECTOR OF STATE JEWELER CLUB

Milwaukee — Fond du Lac was chosen as the 1923 convention city for the Wisconsin Jewelers' association at the closing session here Wednesday night.

With the exception of one director, the entire 1921-22 officers were re-elected. Leonard H. Nelson, Madison, was named director to succeed H. J. Smith, Racine.

The officers are: J. H. Stouthamer, Milwaukee, president; John P. Hess, Fond du Lac, vice president; A. W. Anderson, Neenah, secretary; H. F. Stecker, Milwaukee, treasurer; Gustave Keller, Appleton, J. R. Chapman, Oshkosh and T. J. Dale, Kenosha, directors.

GENOA PARLEY SUCCESS, SAYS LLOYD GEORGE

Cornerstone of European Peace Laid by Conference, Premier Declares

WILL OVERCOME OBSTACLES

English Statesman Believes Russo-German Treaty Will be Withdrawn

By United Press Leased Wire
Genoa — "The success of the Genoa conference is assured," Premier Lloyd George declared Thursday, addressing the press of the world at San Giorgio palace.

"The cornerstone of European peace and reconstruction has been laid," he said.

"Both the Russian and German obstacles will be overcome," the premier declared.

Probably they will be settled Thursday.

NONAGGRESSION PACT
Lloyd George announced the conference will take up consideration of a pan-American pact of nonaggression.

Nations will guarantee not to attack each other without lengthy consideration of their difficulties.

Referring to the Russo-German treaty signed at Rapallo, Lloyd George said:

"We have reasons to believe that Germany will withdraw from this treaty."

"Had any other nation represented here at Genoa signed behind our backs it would have broken up the conference."

OPTIMISTIC IN PREDICTIONS
Lloyd George was most optimistic in his predictions.

"We are overcoming all our difficulties," he repeated. "We are having the greatest success."

"I am confident that this conference will end with all nations entering into a nonaggression pact," Lloyd George declared.

"Otherwise, the conference will have been a failure."

He indicated he did not believe Russia and Germany were trying to wreck the conference.

Russia and Germany presented a united front to the allied and "little entered" note of censure and the Russian reply to the proposals of the political commission were understood to take much the same line although that from the Russian delegation contained a lengthy discussion of the Russian position.

Presentations and consideration of these replies from the two "big powers" were the subject of the treaty threatened to disrupt the conference was the next step at Genoa.

Progress and the very existence of the parley, depend upon the replies.

LADY ASTOR IS GIVEN OVATION
BY NEW YORKERS

Enthusiastic Audience Hears Lecture of England's First Woman Solon

By United Press Leased Wire
New York — Lady Astor, gay, hearted, serious minded, captured New York Wednesday night.

Thursday she rested quietly at the home of her sister and Thursday night will address the English Speaking union.

An enthusiastic audience, which packed the Town hall to hear the former American girl, now England's first woman member of parliament, laid its tribute at her feet with wave messenger, is alleged to have admitted that the lecture, which was delivered with a quick wit, and a graciousness of gesture seldom surpassed here, she had to get down on her knees, lean over the edge of the platform and shake hands with hundreds who crowded forward to greet her.

It was at the close of her lecture, in which she urged women to wake up, enter politics and declared the future of civilization was one-sided rule, that Nancy Langhorne Astor really won her New York audience.

In her address Wednesday night, she told her hearers of her entry into the house of commons and of the warm reception, much to her amazement, she received there.

PICTURES IDEAL WORLD
She declared an ideal world of the future was to be governed by men and women, "going forward side by side."

"We must borrow their justice and their mercy," she said.

Generations of prejudice were holding women back, the speaker declared, and the best way to overcome this was to show that women's desires in politics were not personal.

"Let them see we desire a better, cleaner, safer world for ourselves and our children and that we realize that by fearlessly doing some things that may be disagreeable, we may be able to make this a better world."

Fox River Valley On Verge Of Worst Flood In History

Towns Near Fond du Lac Under Water

Peebles, Taycheedah and Luco and Summer Cottage Colony Inundated

BUILDINGS ARE DESTROYED

Families Forced to Flee as Waters of Lake Winnebago Sweep Over Land

By United Press Leased Wire
Fond du Lac — The villages of Peebles, Taycheedah and Luco and the summer cottage colony along Lake Winnebago were inundated Wednesday evening when a strong northwest gale carried the lake waters a mile beyond normal bounds. Property damage mounting into thousands resulted.

Many cottages were swept from their foundations and several wrecked. All piers and lake front improvements including the swimming pavilion at Lakeside park were destroyed. Several families of cottagers who had been wintering at the shore were forced to flee cityward when the lake waves washed through their homes. Some narrow escapes from drowning are reported. The Sheboygan train on the Northwestern was marooned, a portion of the track being washed away. Passengers were transferred to the city by taxi.

With the dying down of the wind the waters began slowly to recede and it is believed the crest of the flood has been passed.

DENGEL TO ERECT
NEW BUILDING ON COLLEGE AVENUE

Three Story Structure Will Go Up West of Appleton State Bank

A handsome 3-story business block to be occupied by a tenant who will use the entire building for store purposes is to be erected opposite the insurance building of the Aid Association for Lutherans by John Dengel, who owns the corner building.

The building will occupy the vacant lot between his present property and Appleton State bank and will be 38 by 30 feet in size. The front will be constructed of cream colored pressed brick, similar to the Insurance building, and stone.

The three floors will be provided with plate glass windows, and everything about the new structure will be modern and complete. Mr. Dengel did not divulge the name of the tenant.

MAY LOSE VOTES
Under these circumstances, Mr. Harding's only chance to prevent the passage of the House bill or any other measure which further drains the treasury lies in a message setting forth the financial situation explicitly. It is feared this may injure the chances of the Republican majority in the coming elections because Mr. Harding will have to state publicly that the administration faces a half billion dollar deficit and that the economy program started out so auspiciously with Directors Dawes has failed to balance the budget for 1922.

CHICAGO LOOP IS HIT BY CYCLONE

One Killed and 50 Injured When Twister Sweeps Downtown District

Chicago — One school girl was killed, two persons probably fatally hurt and fifty injured when a "baby" cyclone swept Chicago's loop district Wednesday night.

The girl victim was Evelyn Jacobson, 8, who was struck by a piece of cornice blown from the top of a three story building. Her sister, Rashidie, was struck by a brick sustaining perhaps fatal injuries.

Frank Brande, a saloon porter, was snatched from death by a pedestrian in rubber boots who broke Brande's contact with a falling trolley wire. The current had enveloped the porter's body in a blue flame.

Property damage will total thousands of dollars.

LAW STREET
Bridge Swept
Out By Flood

The old Law-st. bridge is no more. The flood today accomplished what the elements have been trying to do for a long time. The decrepit structure, out of commission for several years, was swept from its moorings about 1:30 this afternoon. Part of it crashed against the railroad bridge a short distance down river but did no damage.

The bridge was sold some months ago to Anton Stadler. He will salvage little or nothing from the wreck.

CLINTONVILLE ELECTS
WOMAN CITY ATTORNEY

Clintonville — The city council elected Mrs. Marie Brunner city attorney Tuesday night. She is a graduate of the Wisconsin university law school and a member of the law firm of Brunner & Brunner in this city. She is also a court commissioner for Waupaca county. Mrs. Brunner is probably the first woman in Wisconsin to hold the office of city attorney.

STEAMER ZERO SENT TO BOTTOM BY COLLISION

Buenos Aires — The Munson liner Aeolus collided with the steamer Zero, which sank, all on board being saved, according to wireless messages received here Thursday.

The Aeolus was slightly damaged. It is limping into Montevideo with the Zero's crew of 13 aboard.

HARDING DEEPLY CONCERNED OVER FINANCE PROBLEM

Deficit for Fiscal Year Beginning July Next May Reach Billion Dollars

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by Post Pub. Co.
Washington — Government finances are in the worst jam they have been in since the war. Secretary Mellon estimates the total deficit for the fiscal year beginning July next at nearly a half billion dollars. Congress is on the verge of passing a soldier compensation bill as well as other measures for rivers and harbors. Nobody knows how much higher the deficit may go though officials estimate that if the soldier bonus bill should become law the amount of the deficit may reach a billion dollars.

MESSAGE TO CONGRESS
President Harding is deeply concerned over the situation. He may read a special message to congress in an effort not only to secure greater economy on existing appropriation bills but to head off the soldier bonus. The action of the senate Republican caucus in voting to have a soldier bonus bill passed at this session precipitates the issue. No specific bill was advocated by the caucus and the resolution can be interpreted, if the Republicans choose, to mean in favor of a bonus bill with other forms of compensation besides cash or bonus.

The action of the senate Republican caucus in voting to have a soldier bonus bill passed at this session precipitates the issue. No specific bill was advocated by the caucus and the resolution can be interpreted, if the Republicans choose, to mean in favor of a bonus bill with other forms of compensation besides cash or bonus.

Mr. Harding knows that if the House bill were to come to a vote today it would be passed by an overwhelming majority. The swing in sentiment in the Senate toward passage of a bonus bill with money in it for the soldier men has been gradual. Talk of burying the bill in the senate has been swept aside by the activity of the bonus adherents who threaten to jam the whole legislative program unless they get a vote on the bonus. Once the measure is up for vote, there will be few who will dare to go on record against it.

Wild Ride and Gun Play Figure in Climax to Six Years of Married Life

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis — Irving L. Stair, prominent society man and grain dealer, was sentenced to the workhouse for 60 days Thursday after a thrilling kidnapping of his estranged wife.

Mrs. Stair, a sister of Henry C. Flannery, assistant state's attorney general, and daughter of the late Judge Henry C. Flannery, is seriously ill at her home as a result of the affair.

Wild automobile races, gun play, threats of murder and suicide, and a wild race with police, figure in the movie like climax to six years of married life. A divorce will follow as an anti-climax, according to friends of Mrs. Stair.

Pending divorce hearings, Mrs. Stair secured an order restraining Stair from molesting her or visiting their child.

Monday night Stair carried his wife at the point of a gun down a ladder from her room and placed her in a closed car. They began a terrifying ride to St. Cloud during which, she alleges, Stair threatened to kill her and shoot himself.

Still pressing the revolver against her side, Stair took her to a St. Cloud hotel. Next morning they breakfasted. When Stair left the room a moment to telephone, Mrs. Stair called to a salesman to help her. Stair did not comprehend, until they left.

Stair drove to a filling station. When he left the car she ran. He overtook her and a scuffle ensued. Mrs. Stair grabbed the revolver and pointed it at him. He wrestled it from her and fled.

Driving rapidly away in his car Stair left his wife disheveled in the road. A St. Cloud police squad took up pursuit. He was overtaken after a ten mile chase during which 29 shots were fired.

Thursday Stair was sentenced to the workhouse for violation of the court restraining order.

HENRY FORD DENIES WAR PROFIT STATEMENT

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington — Henry Ford didn't authorize the statement that he had repaid to the government $29,000,000 in war profits, according to a letter received Thursday by the treasury department.

The letter, written by Ford's secretary, declared Ford was not responsible for the statement and did not see it until after it was published.

BIG MINNESOTA BANK
CLOSED BY EXAMINERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Shakopee, Minn. — The Security State bank of which E. L. Welch, prominent St. Paul broker was president until two weeks ago, was closed by the state bank examiner at 3:30 Thursday. R. B. Rathbun, examiner, would make no statement except that "losses may be heavy."

E. L. Welch and company, brokers, are now in bankruptcy.

HUSBAND ANSWERS SUIT
OF GRAND OPERA STAR

By United Press Leased Wire
San Francisco — Floyd Gitzbach, chauffeur-husband of Mme. Margaret Maizennauer, opera star, Thursday struck back in the divorce suit his wife had started against him.

Through his attorney he filed a counter complaint in the superior court here Thursday.

Gitzbach, who continues to drive a "four year" automobile at Delmonte, Calif., was not present when the complaint was filed.

Sorority Girls Clad In Nighties Rout Burglar

By United Press Leased Wire
Minneapolis — One Minneapolis burglar made the mistake of a life time Wednesday night.

He jimmied his way into the Gamma Phi Beta sorority house, Mrs. H. H. Hess, chaperon, heard him. She aroused the 20 coeds from their slumbers.

Clothed in nighties the coeds descended to the attack. The burglar was bombarded with everything from hair brushes to shoes. He fled to the basement. He ran the gauntlet of missiles and dived through a front window. Blood stains indicated he connected disastrously with the pane. He escaped.

THREE CHILDREN
MURDER VICTIMS

By United Press Leased Wire
Houston, Tex. — Three children were found dead in bed here Thursday from gas, police reports said.

The victims: William Mathias, 9; Elizabeth Mathias, 8; and Louis Mathias, 6.

Police said they found a hole in the back screen where the murderers gained entrance to the house. Cracks and doors of the room where the tots slept had been stopped with paper.

The children's grandfather said he found the gas burners turned on.

The mother, Mrs. Horace J. Mathias, 29, was said to have left home here last Friday. Relatives said they had not heard from her.

BOYS NEAR DEATH FROM DRINKING MOONSHINE

Minneapolis — Two boys are near death from drinking almost two quarts of moonshine, and the father of one is held by police.

Neighbors saw the boys in the home of C. F. Warren. When police arrived both were helpless. Warren's 12-year-old son was unconscious.

Police seized moonshine and a still, and arrested Warren.

Want Ad
Produces
65 Inquiries

One man thought everybody in Appleton was looking for a house to rent a few days ago. He ordered a Want Ad inserted in the Post-Crescent the first insertion being on Saturday night. By Monday morning he had 65 inquiries. Of course there must be houses for rent in the city somewhere. Have you one? If you have you can find a renter in a hurry. Just call the Post-Crescent and have a Want Ad inserted in the next edition. You too can have a choice of 65 renters.

BORAH SEEKS NEW EVIDENCE AGAINST COSSACK LEADER

Idaho Senator to Ascertain if Semenoff Can Be Prosecuted for Murder

By United Press Leased Wire
New York — Senator William F. Borah, nemesis of General Gregory Semenoff, is in New York Thursday seeking evidence that may lead to prosecution of the Cossack ataman on charges of murders committed in Siberia.

It was Borah, who as chairman of the senate labor committee, launched the Washington investigation of atrocities by Semenoff troops.

He also wants to quiz Boris Bakhtineff, ambassador of the old Kerensky government, regarding alleged Semenoff outrages. It is understood that Borah is now running down a clue which may lead to important disclosures of a connection between Semenoff and Bakhtineff.

SPECIAL POLICE GUARDS
Special police guards were thrown around the building where Semenoff Thursday is to appear before Referee Peter Bolney, to be put on the grill with regard to seizure by his Cossack forces of valuable American owned goods in Siberia.

An attempt to assassinate Semenoff is feared.

A mob surged about him when he was released on bail from Ludlow street jail late Wednesday, yelling: "Kill the murderer of children."

Bail for Semenoff was furnished by two Russian patriotic societies.

The ataman slept Wednesday night in a secret hiding place in New York. Its location is known only to police. A motor car load of police was ready to escort Semenoff to the courtroom Thursday.

Attention of authorities here has been called to an article printed in the Japan Advertiser, which charged Semenoff had deserted his first wife in Yokohama. Semenoff insists that Madame Semenoff, called the most beautiful woman in Russia and who says she is cousin of the late Czar Nicholas, is his first and only wife and that he married her in Japan in 1920. She is traveling with him.

Water is now discharging into the lower river at the rate of 20,000 cubic feet a second which is 25 per cent greater than the largest previous discharge on record. The discharge is constantly increasing it is said.

The inspection was made by Earl Niesen, assistant United States engineer at Milwaukee; Major F. S. Skinner, Milwaukee, and T. W. Orison, Appleton. Several other men also were in the party.

These men said the condition is similar to the flood of 1881 when it rained for 40 days but facilities for handling the water now are better. The greatest danger now, it is said, is in the banks of canals giving way which would put an end to navigation of the year and cause property loss running perhaps into millions because of the danger to industries near the canal banks.

An artificial dike was built at the Cedar locks at Kimberly to protect them. The water was only a fraction of an inch from the top. If the locks should break it would mean an enormous rush of water which would cause great damage all the way to Green Bay.

The lower dam at Appleton is being carefully watched and large dikes are being built along the river. If a break should come there it will mean an end to navigation and serious property damage.

The water is rushing over the first dam in such volume that the fall has been reduced from ten feet to 7 feet. There is no danger to the dam, however. The middle dam also is said to be secure with little danger of its going out.

At Neenah a quantity of cinders has been dumped into the east end to strengthen it. Water now is running around the east end and it would not be surprising if the entire structure was washed away, engineers say.

The considerable snow still remains in the north and when this melts rapidly the danger will increase. Engineers are hopeful, however, of protecting property unless it rains for several days.

Engineers refuse to make any predictions of what may happen. The situation is extremely critical and power owners have been warned to be ready for any emergency.

There was a drop of about nine inches in the level of the river late Wednesday afternoon when the wind subsided but it began to rise during the night and by morning had passed its previous high water mark. Water is flowing around the Lutz ice houses and may cause much damage there.

The Wicket Planing mill at Neenah closed Wednesday. The Lakeview and Island Paper Co. plants are down and part of the Gilbert mill has suspended operations. The Toy Company of America plant here has been down for some time.

BOARD DEFERS ACTION ON NEW HIGHWAY WORK

Appropriations Must Wait Later Session—Build Garage on Asylum Farm

The $20,000 appropriation for the paving of the highway from Little Chute south to Calumet-co. line and the $10,000 appropriation for the paving of Lemmings-st. in Appleton were laid over until a later session at the last meeting of the county board Thursday morning. The extension of trunk line No. 15 in Kaukauna will be considered also at a later date. This action was due to the absence of funds with which to carry on these projects. The board adjourned at noon.

The special committee appointed to seek a site for the new county garage suggested three: Asylum farm, Smith property north of Second-ave. and Schneider property. The Smith and Schneider properties could be had for $1,600 each, but the asylum site was selected as the county owns the land.

Joseph Christl was re-elected janitor of the courthouse receiving a unanimous vote over Joseph Kuehl. A. C. Koch, register of deeds, was appointed county abstractor and no change was made in the transfer fee which is 40 cents. The board decided to return the stone crusher belonging to the town of Greenville which it used on the county highways several years ago.

Action on the recommendation of the finance committee to engage expert accountants to install a new system of bookkeeping in the county highway commissioner's office and to install an index system in the county clerk's office was laid over until the November session.

Chairman Ryan appointed John Tracy, George Kitchen and Milford Postell as members of the new standing committee on salaries. Appropriations of $1,750 were made to the Seymour Fair and Park association and the Outagamie Agricultural society of Hortonville. Fox River Valley Poultry and Pet stock association was given an appropriation of $500.

The highway leading to Riverview sanatorium was ordered repaired and a mailing placed on one portion of it. The trustees of the sanatorium and county asylum and the building and grounds committee were appointed as a committee to take the necessary steps of making Riverview sanatorium a tri-county institution.

Reports of the committees on sheriff's accounts, constable accounts, insane accounts, printing, finance, poor, agriculture, old perdition and mileage were adopted.

F. J. Harwood, president of the board of trustees of Riverview sanatorium, addressed the board in regard to repairs to highway leading to it and as to the advisability of making the sanatorium a tri-county institution. Judge E. V. Werner addressed it relatives to needed alterations to the courthouse to make it possible for women to serve on juries.

INVITE PARENTS TO VISIT SCHOOLS

Second District is Planning Annual Exhibition of Work of Pupils

"Go to school day" will be observed in Lincoln, Columbus and Franklin schools Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 2, 3 and 4, during which time parents and friends of pupils will be invited to attend school and see how work is accomplished in class sessions. Work of the schools during the last year will be exhibited.

It had been the custom previously to hold the exhibit in the evening but the plan did not work especially well. Exhibits in sewing, drawing, manual training will be shown in each room. Arrangements are already under way for the annual event. Teachers and pupils are busy mounting their specimens sheets and Lincoln school is a center of activity.

"Open house" will be held each afternoon in the school in which the exhibit is to be shown. Parents will be urged to attend classes to witness the processes in the production of articles and later will be escorted about to inspect the finished work.

VALLEY ASSOCIATION TO ATTACK WEST'S PROBLEMS

Almost every topic that affects the middle west will be touched upon in the annual convention of the Mississippi Valley association, which meets in Kansas City April 25 and 26. Announcement of the gathering is contained in a copy of the "Valley Idea," official publication, received by the chamber of commerce.

Nationally known speakers will show where conditions need remedying to help the business interests in the middle west. They will touch on transportation, waterways, tariffs, allied debts, merchant marine and many other topics. Nobody has been named to represent Appleton at the convention.

Lutheran Aid Meeting
Nominations for national trustee and director will be made at the monthly meeting of Branch No. 1, Aid Association for Lutherans at 7:45 Sunday evening in St. Paul school hall. The program will include a play, "The Best Man," by the young people of Mount Olive Evangelical Lutheran church, and an address by the Rev. R. E. Ziesemer. The bowling club activities will be discussed and several candidates will be initiated into the association.

Dr. W. J. Foote is now located over the Kresge Five & Ten Cent Store in a part of the office of Dr. A. E. Rector and continuing business.

ASSURE CATLIN OF SUPPORT AT STATE MEETING

Appleton Man Receives Many Letters—Want McKerrow to Oppose LaFollette

Support of the candidacy of Mark S. Catlin for Republican nomination for attorney general of Wisconsin is assured in scores of letters from prominent men in all parts of the state, received by Mr. Catlin since announcing his candidacy a few days ago. Many of the letters say there is no question of his endorsement by the Committee of Forty-Four which meets in Milwaukee next June.

Announcement of the candidacy of David Summerfield for secretary of state is expected any day. It is said he will also receive the endorsement of the Milwaukee meeting.

The call has gone forth from the committee for county conventions to be held in the county seats May 10 to elect delegates to the Milwaukee meeting. Delegates are apportioned to each county in proportion of one delegate to each 500 population. Outagamie county is entitled to 22 delegates. These will be elected at a meeting to be held in the courthouse here at 2 o'clock Wednesday, May 10. R. C. Wolter is chairman of the committee in this county.

One of the developments of the last few days has been creation of sentiment in favor of the nomination of George McKerrow, of Waukesha, as candidate for United States senator to succeed Robert M. LaFollette. Mr. McKerrow, who has been head of farm organizations, connected with the state fair and a "dirt" farmer, is well known throughout the state and has been known as a member of the conservative wing of the Republican party.

There still is some sentiment for Rex Wilcox for governor in spite of the announcement of William J. Morgan's candidacy. Wilcox's former supporters believe he will make an excellent showing and it is quite probable his name will be offered to the convention in Milwaukee.

DEATHS

MRS. WILLIAM WINSLOW

Mrs. William Winslow, 58, a resident of the town of Ellington for many years, died Wednesday morning at her home in that town after a long illness. Brief services will be held in the late home at 10 o'clock Friday morning after which the body will be conveyed to Leaman where the Rev. J. J. Shaw will conduct services in the Leaman Methodist church. Burial will be in the town of Maine cemetery.

The decedent is survived by the widow, one daughter, Mrs. Douglas Hodgins, Hortonville; one son, Earl Winslow, Chili, Wis.; three sisters, Mrs. Lada Borden, Pennsylvania; Mrs. Sam Strong, town of Maine; Mrs. Edward Packard, Stephenville; one brother, Edward Moore, Stephenville.

WOMEN EARN $100 FOR THEIR CLUB

Ingenious Ways of Making Money are Reported by Women of M-R Division

When all the money from the M to R division of Appleton Women's club comes in, the division will have earned more than $100 and the ways in which the women earned it are as ingenious as only women can be when they are on the trail of a dollar. One woman stoked her own furnace to get her dollar, another saved 100 pennies by keeping all the pennies which were given to her as change, another set out to look for bargains and used what she saved that way for her money.

The women of this division under the chairmanship of Mrs. H. P. Russell decided to earn a dollar a piece rather than have a joint stunt for making money for the club. Wednesday was set for report day and all the women were to come to tea at the Appleton Women's clubroom and tell their story of earning money. The day was dreadful, but more than 25 women came and the total amount of money brought in was $75.60. Others sent word that they had the money and would send it in.

The rag man paid one woman's dollar for old rubbers, rags and magazines. Another woman walked every time she would ordinarily have taken the car and saved her money. Many of them baked food and performed unusual services for the members of their families or for their friends.

PLANNING COMMISSION PLANS TO TOUR COUNTY

The first regular meeting of the newly organized rural planning commission was held Thursday in the county school superintendent's office. Plans were made for a summer tour of investigation of problems bearing on health, general welfare, transportation, community centers and other conditions in the county.

Daniel J. Ryan, Combined Locks, chairman of the county board, George F. Fiedler, Seymour, chairman of the county-state road and bridge commission, Mrs. H. L. Wait, Seymour, and Miss Florence Jenkins, county school superintendent, attended the meeting.

Helpful Hair Hints

You can easily clean your head of dandruff, prevent the hair from falling out and beautify it, if you use Parisian Sage.

A lady visiting friends says "Parisian Sage is the best thing I ever used to make my hair wavy, lustrous and abundant. It also keeps away all dandruff and immediately stops itching scalp."

This inexpensive invigorator is sold by Schlintz Bros. Co. and at all good drug and toilet counters. Be sure you get the genuine Parisian Sage (Giroux's) as that has the money back guarantee printed on every bottle. adv.

JUDGE AND JURY GO GET TRIAL EVIDENCE

Judge Edgar V. Werner, Sheriff Peter G. Schwartz, Court Reporter William H. Kreles and the entire jury trying the case of the estate of John Knapp vs. the town of Deer Creek left Thursday afternoon to inspect a culvert at Deer Creek connected with the details of the case. Suit was started some time ago by the late Mr. Knapp for damages alleged to have been incurred on his farm by the township's failure to properly drain a ditch. The case was appealed from the municipal court to the circuit court, has been in supreme court and now has been renewed by the Knapp family.

LAW-ST. PEOPLE WANT PAVEMENT ON THEIR STREET

Routine Business is Transacted
at First Regular Meeting of New Council

A perfect attendance marked the first regular meeting of the Appleton common council under the new regime Wednesday evening. Mayor Henry Reuter, after his first day in office, called the new council to order.

After the pay roll account of $5,866.95 was allowed, a resolution was presented by Alderman L. O. Hansen to place street lights at the corners of Lemish and Oneida streets, and Atlantic and Tonkass streets, which was passed. Contract for laying sewers on portions of Brewster and Mason streets, Garfield-pl. and Pierce-ave. was awarded Anthony Tomesun of Fond du Lac on his bid at $3,706.50, which was the lowest offered. Others competing for the job were Frank Bartz, J. H. Waite and R. J. Wilson company, all of Appleton. Sidewalk building licenses were granted to Fred Lillig and Robert Schultz.

WANT STREET PAVED
A petition signed by 38 taxpayers and requesting paving of a part of Law-st. was referred to the board of public works. A petition for a water main on Story-st. was referred to the fire and water commission. Still another petition by Sheldon Stammer, Route 5, Appleton, for damages said to have been done his truck by automobile, license No. 25535, was referred to the judiciary committee. Petitions for gas pumps at the curbing in front of 756 Appleton-st. and 749 Cherry-st. for opening of Van Smith-st. between Oneida and Morrison, for opening of one or more streets in block 92, Third ward, for extension of Morrison-st. were referred to the committee on streets and bridges, as was also the petition by Fraser Lumber & Manufacturing company to use the alley while constructing the new building of the Wichman Furniture company.

Two appointments were made by Mayor Reuter on boards where terms have expired. If N. Broke was appointed to succeed himself on the public library board, and C. F. Smith will succeed himself on the water commission.

THE STAGE

The Bride's Play
Marion Davies, a favorite with Appleton audiences who remember pleasantly her recent delightful picture "Enchantment" is the star of "The Bride's Play" which opens at Fischer's Appleton today for the remainder of the week. Miss Davies enacts a dual role, that of an Irish lass and a modern American girl. The offering is fraught with comedy and is enacted by a carefully chosen cast. It is a Cosmopolitan production which is another way of saying that the investiture will be elaborate.

"The Jazz Janitor" will be the comedy. Fischer's International News will also be shown. Miss Rhinehart and Duff will offer a complete change of songs. They are a charming singing duo.

"Way Down East" will be shown at the Appleton four days starting Wednesday, April 26.

APPLETON TOURISTS ARRIVE IN ENGLAND

A party of Appleton people who left recently for Europe have arrived safely in Plymouth, England, according to a cablegram received Tuesday by Attorney A. H. Krugmeier from B. J. Zuehlke, cashier of Appleton State bank. The party includes Mr. and Mrs. Zuehlke, Miss Florette Zuehlke, their daughter, and Henoch Caliche, Grand Chute. The European tour will include England, Belgium, France, Germany, and other countries. No other announcement was sent, the cablegram bearing the simple message: "All Well."

APRIL SHOWERS ARE BRINGING MAY FLOWERS

April showers which have spoiled many a flower on the spring bonnets have been bringing along nature's beauty to make amends for the May flowers are out. Lyle Whydolski whose home is on South River-st. picked a large bouquet of hyacinths in Tracy's woods on the Darby road on Tuesday. Although there are not many of the little flowers in bloom as yet, there will be a good many of them in a few days.

Allen Claims to End Rheumatism

ALLENRHU relieves at once. One bottle—a full pint—will show you the way to complete recovery or your druggist will gladly return your money.

Immediately after you start to take it the good work begins. It searches out the uric acid deposits, dissolves the secretions and drives rheumatic poison out of the body through the kidneys and bowels.

It's marvelous how quickly it acts. Blessed relief often comes in two days, and even in cases where the suffering is most painful all traces disappear in a week.

Mr. James H. Allen, of Congress Avenue, Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of ALLENRHU, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless ALLENRHU shows immediate results, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee one full pint bottle in every instance. Voigt Drug Store can supply you. adv.

MAIL PUBLICITY REPORT TO VALLEY

Eight or Ten Organizations in Each City Asked to Support Big Plan

Copies of the report of the committee recommending a publicity plan for the Fox River valley will be in the hands of a group of eight or ten organizations in each city in the valley by the end of the week. A letter explaining the work of the committee has been prepared by Hugh G. Corbett, secretary, and will accompany the report.

Each chamber of commerce or commercial club, each Rotary, Kiwanis or Lions club, womens clubs, agricultural organizations and other bodies interested in civic development or community cooperation will receive a copy and will be asked to assist in launching the campaign to raise the necessary $50,000.

Approval of get-together meeting to develop the advertising plan further is sought from each organization. It is possible that this gathering will be held in the fall.

PUT UNEXPECTED $100,000 ASIDE TO BUILD BRIDGE

Laabs Suggests Conservation of the Money for
Bridge Purposes

In view of a large increase in income tax receipts in Appleton, a sinking fund for bridge building should be created to save the taxpayers money, it was suggested by A. W. Laabs, chairman of the finance committee of the common council at its meeting Wednesday evening.

Mr. Laabs informed the council that $100,000 more than was anticipated had been received in income tax revenue from large manufacturing concerns in Appleton. He proposed this money be set aside as a sinking fund for the exclusive use of a new bridge. No action was taken at the meeting as Alderman Laabs' proposal was informal. He intimated, however, that the finance committee would make a recommendation at the next session of the council. Mayor Reuter suggested that the money be placed in a street and bridge fund so that it might be used for either street paving or bridge building.

At the same time the council on motion of Alderman Laabs decided to press the application already made to the state highway commission for state aid in building a new bridge in Appleton. The commission will be urged to render an early decision, as it is feared that postponement recommended by Governor Blaine may result in legislative action stopping further state aid in these matters.

PUT REST ROOM IN CITY HALL BASEMENT

What was intended for a rest room in the basement of the city hall will be improved to attract the attention of the passing public, it was decided at Wednesday evening's council meeting on the motion of Alderman Charles Pose. The plan is to install two toilet rooms and lavatory, open a direct entrance from the street and place a placard at the door. The matter was referred to the public grounds and buildings committee with power to act.

Hereafter rooms in the city hall basement will be available to clubs and societies for use in sales, bazaars and the like. Several requests were reported to the council as coming from various societies, but City Clerk E. L. Williams withheld granting permits pending definite decision by the council authorizing such action. Mr. Williams was given authority to permit use of the rooms according to his discretion.

SEEK VOLUNTEERS TO KNIT SWEATERS

Volunteers are wanted at Appleton Red Cross center to knit sleeves in sweaters for use of wounded war veterans in United States hospitals. A box containing 100 sweaters arrived at Red Cross center this week. The garments are sleeveless and government regulations require that sweaters for soldiers have sleeves. Some of the sweaters will be raveled to secure wool to make into sleeves.

Appleton women who will volunteer to assist in the work are asked notify Mrs. L. A. Lohman, chairman of the volunteer service committee of the American Legion Auxiliary. Women living in surrounding towns may have sweaters to knit by notifying Miss Ann Helm, Red Cross executive.

Court to Reopen
Judge E. V. Werner will be here Thursday to reconvene circuit court for trial of the case of John Knapp vs. Town of Deer Creek. This will be a jury trial.

What the Consumer Buys is Service

WHAT you buy from the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is service. This service may be expressed in mileage from gasoline or reduction of frictional wear from a lubricant or a good clear flame from kerosene. Every product made by this Company is designed to render a specific, definite service.

This service to be constant and dependable must be based—first upon highest technical knowledge and second upon permanency of organization. There can be no lasting service in any manufactured article unless there be stamina in the organization that makes it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has a long and honorable record in producing petroleum products of the highest quality.

This is because its organization is essentially scientific; because through a period of years it has built up a personnel of experts. These men know what the public demands from petroleum and they know how to create products which will supply this need.

Each product conforms to a standard, set to yield maximum service. The series of petroleum products made by this Company round out a cycle of service which supplies every need of the community.

As a specific example, take candles. One might think, that in these days of gas and electricity, the humble candle had been discarded, but it has not. Twenty-two million pounds of candles are consumed yearly in the United States, of which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) last year produced 7,649,000 pounds.

Thus, through the long list of products made by this Company, the needs of small groups of people throughout 11 Middle Western States are recognized and cared for with the same forethought and efficiency, as are the wholesale requirements of motorists and manufacturers. This too, is service.

THE RAPALLO INCIDENT
The allies should not be surprised that Germany and Russia have taken the bit in their mouths and leaped over the traces at Genoa. Certainly it is no surprise to America. European policies, as they have affected Russia and Germany separately, have had the inevitable effect of bringing them together. Their problems and trials, in certain respects similar, have at least sentimentally united them on common ground. Face to face with starvation, with empty treasuries and worthless fiat money, and no help coming from the outside world, they have naturally looked to each other in their mutual adversities.
It does not matter that in their future national development German and Russian interests may not coincide or that the socialistic tendencies of Germany are erroneously confused with the communism of Russia, temporary circumstances are in the ascendancy. Germany, unable to balance her budget, has looked in vain to the allies for concessions that would lighten the reparations burden. Russia has looked in vain for that recognition by other nations that would give her a market for her productions and enable her to reestablish a profitable commerce, coupled with the harter of valuable concessions. The fears and suspicions of France on the one hand, and the determination of the powers not to recognize the irresponsible and confiscatory soviet government of Russia on the other hand, have impelled these two outcasts toward each other as comrades in distress.
The allies may force Russia and Germany to modify the Rapallo agreement, although with the single exception that its most favored nations clause is in conflict with the Paris treaty of peace, we fail to see wherein it is objectionable or where it goes beyond the sovereign rights of the principals. To exclude either or both of them from the conference meetings will frustrate the purposes of the conference, because nothing comprehensive or permanent touching the restoration of Europe can be brought about which fails to embrace these unfortunate if somewhat obstreperous worthies. The conference might as well adjourn and go home as to bar Germany and Russia.
If Russia can be influenced to give proper guarantees for the observance of her international obligations, the recognition of her debts, etc., if the questions of reparations and disarmament can be even informally approached, it ought to be possible to accommodate the differences which have arisen over the Rapallo treaty through its modification. The great question still is whether the main objects of the conference can be reached. If they can be we may expect to see Germany and Russia revise their understanding so that it will accord with the general conclusions.
Naturally France and Germany are excited about the Rapallo affair, but it is more than probable that they have let their imaginations get the better of them in their haste to estimate its significance and future possibilities. Anything of this character is always upsetting in Europe. Its affairs have so long been governed by secret treaties that the phantom of some underhanded deal never ceases to cloud the atmosphere. Public opinion in this country will not take the incident so seriously, but will rather expect the resourceful Lloyd George to extricate the allies from the momentarily disconcerting situation.
IRELAND RUNNING TO ANARCHY
The civil war in Ireland is increasing in intensity and bitterness. It threatens to engulf the whole of Ireland, and to substitute for the orderly processes of government anarchy and fratricidal strife. An attempt has been made to assassinate Michael Collins, head of the Irish provisional government. Doubtless further attempts will be made on the lives of those who in good faith are attempting to set up a free Ireland.
The responsibility for this deplorable situation rests upon De Valera. Mr. Collins says De Valera is inciting Ireland to anarchy and is wrecking the chances of the Free State. He is right. De Valera is an extremist whose head has been carried away by his own importance and by impossible dreams. He ought to know perfectly well that he cannot succeed in his attempt to overthrow the Free State. When the worst comes to the worst Great Britain will be in duty bound to support the free state with force. That will put an end to the secession. But it will cost blood and treasure to do it, and Ireland will bear the scars for generations.
One thing is certain. DeValera will not have the sympathetic support of the outside world, which has long since made up its judgment that the agreement between Ireland and England in the creation of the Free State was a fortunate and praiseworthy adjustment of the age-long controversy. There is hardly any question but what disinterested public opinion holds DeValera severely to account for his astounding attempt to destroy the Free State.

MR. WILSON'S ANANIAS CLUB
Back in the first years of the century we used to have the Ananias Club. It was founded by the late Theodore Roosevelt. It was an exclusive organization, membership depending solely upon recommendations of Mr. Roosevelt. The Colonel founded the club to take care of his detractors and those who misrepresented him. He did not enjoy being lied about. On one occasion he sued a Michigan editor who charged him with drunkenness, and on another he sued the New York World for accusing him of conspiracy against Columbia in taking the Panama canal strip.
His predecessor, Mr. McKinley, was less mindful of those who prevaricated, and so was Mr. Taft. We imagine the present easy-going occupant of the White house will be more or less indifferent to misstatements about him. Mr. Wilson, however, is like Mr. Roosevelt, in that he has a lot of fighting Scotch blood and does not easily let an offense pass. He has always been sensitive about what others said of him and particularly unauthorized statements attributing to him certain views or speech. Mr. Tumulty made a few speeches in the last presidential campaign, toward its close, very much against his chief's wishes, and the secretary was careful to explain that he spoke without authority of the president.
There is every reason to believe that Mr. Wilson was pained by Mr. Tumulty's book. There is some doubt as to whether he has ever read it, but if he has he will understand what a really important and talented man his secretary was. Like Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Wilson has his own Ananias club. Although its membership is smaller it is growing and may reach considerable size. Col. House and Secretary Lansing may be regarded as charter members. Mr. Lodge is another distinguished member, and now we have Mr. Tumulty and Senator Reed added to the list. Mr. Tumulty is a well-meaning politician, but he knows entirely too much and takes too much for granted to be a safe companion to either a president or ex-president. Mr. Reed's presumptuous use of Mr. Wilson's indorsement, which of course the president never gave, was an offense that the latter had a right to resent. After the shamelessness of Mr. Reed's attacks upon the president all through the war one wonders at his audacity in claiming the friendship of the man he so grievously maligned. Mr. Wilson put Mr. Reed in his proper place and is to be commended and admired for the promptness with which he did it.
The public sympathies will be altogether with the ex-president in both the Tumulty and Reed incidents. He may be still a sick man, but he has shown that he can bite as well as bark. Hereafter those disposed to add to the misrepresentation heaped upon him while he was president will be more inclined to let him alone.

CAN A MAN GAS HIMSELF?
Besides accidental and intentional poisoning by illuminating gas, there are many other sources of carbon monoxide poisoning to which we are exposed nowadays. Nearly every one knows something of the danger from carbon monoxide poisoning from the exhaust of an automobile or other gasoline engine running in a closed place. Men working about blast and coke furnaces are often gassed with carbon monoxide. Leaky gas stoves, gas irons or radiators, gas stoves without flue connection, or a coal stove or furnace with leaky flue; or a coal stove with fire banked and drafts shut off for the night may give off enough of this colorless, tasteless and odorless gas to wipe out life.
Carbon monoxide displaces the oxygen in the hemoglobin of the blood, thus preventing the tissues and cells from getting their necessary supply of oxygen.
One who is being gassed yawns, grows sleepy and weary, has a dull headache with a feeling of pressure on the forehead, perhaps some dizziness, and confusion. Confusion and unconsciousness follow if rescue is not prompt. A peculiar sensation of loss of power in the knees, which causes the victim to become "frozen" in his tracks and to fall to attempt flight, is characteristic in many instances.
When exposure is prolonged or frequent, and the amount of carbon monoxide absorbed is very slight, the victim complains of unnatural languor or weariness, headaches, palpitation, and poor memory or loss of former mental alertness. Disturbances of digestion, impaired appetite, or repulsion for food, and restless sleep are also frequent complaints of garage employees and others whose occupation favors exposure to carbon monoxide in small amounts.
These carbon monoxide symptoms are strikingly like the symptoms of tobacco poisoning. Indeed it is quite possible that the symptoms seen in acute and chronic tobacco poisoning are chiefly attributable to the carbon monoxide produced and inhaled with the smoke, coupled with the contributory effect of the slower, more shallow breathing which accompanies the act of smoking.
Many housewives working about gas stoves with leaky gas connections are subjected to chronic carbon monoxide poisoning thru the winter months. Small gas heaters or others whose operation have no outside flue connection are an abomination in a room, and notwithstanding assurances that all the poisonous products are consumed by some special invention or attachment, such stoves are quite as harmful to the health of human occupants of the room as coal stoves would be if they had no connection with the chimney.
In seasons of the year when little heat is needed it is a common practice to carry a flueless gas heater or an oil heater into the bathroom to heat the room while the adventurer is bathing. This is a dangerous practice and one would better postpone the bath till the Fourth of July.
Some careless persons even leave a gas stove burning in the bedroom in the night with all windows closed, and dream sweet dreams of huge weights crushing down on their chests.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Diagnosis a la Charlatan
Do you think it is very good for a girl who is bothered with her heart to work in a factory. My daughter has had trouble with her heart since last summer. Some times she feels like fainting and her heart starts beating very fast and she trembles. Could you please tell me what the trouble is.—(Mrs. P. A. D.)
Answer—I have no idea what the trouble is or whether your daughter should work in a factory. You should be guided by the advice of your physician.
Wild and Cultured
Please tell me whether cultured buttermilk is fattening and whether it is beneficial to the stomach.—(Mrs. R. S. H.)
Answer—Buttermilk is less nourishing than fresh milk, of course. It is immaterial whether it be soured by sowing lactic cultures in it or in the natural process of butter making. Buttermilk is a wholesome beverage for those who like it and perhaps beneficial in certain digestive disorders, particularly conditions in which there is excessive protein putrefactive decomposition in the intestine. For flavor, many prefer fresh whole milk, first boiled five minutes, then cooled to blood warmth, and soured with the lactic bacillus cultures and allowed to stand in a warm place to sour. The late Metchnikoff, however, advised the use of skim milk rather than whole milk for souring—he insisted on the importance of first boiling the skim milk five minutes to destroy objectionable germs in it, then sowing with the lactic cultures. He recommended drinking a pint of soured skim milk daily.
Bad Memory
Do you know of anything I can do to improve my memory? I am a writer, aged 49 years, and lately I find it increasingly difficult to keep orders in my mind.—(J. H. R.)
Answer—I can suggest anything that would improve the memory I'd purchase a hospital size package of it myself.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Thursday, April 22, 1897
Charles O. Baer called on friends at Green Bay. Mrs. A. C. H. Baker returned from a two weeks' visit with friends at Waukesha.
Louis Smith, chef at the Sherman house, leased the residence on Oneida st. owned by Martin Weyenberg.
The water in Lake Winnebago commenced to recede. It reached its highest level the preceding Sunday.
The members of the Clio club were to entertain their husbands the following Monday evening at the home of Mrs. M. K. Gochbauer.
Pinafore was presented at Green Bay the previous evening by home talent. Mrs. Max Mayer of Appleton took the part of Hebe and Miss Alice Williams, also of Appleton, appeared in the role of Josephine.
Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Harriman departed for the south on a several weeks' pleasure trip.
The Ladies Auxiliary of the Catholic Order of Foresters entertained the Catholic Order of Foresters at a card party the previous evening. Fifteen tables were engaged and the prizes were won by John O. Hanlon, Mrs. Frank Linnett, George Schmidt and Miss Mayme Page.
The school board of the Second district met to decide upon a name for its new school building. The choice was between Lincoln and Washington and the former name was finally adopted. The ceremonies connected with the laying of the cornerstone were to be held a week later. The principal addresses were to be delivered by Judge Sam Ryan, Joseph Koffend, and F. B. McGovern, principal.
James Arnell of California, formerly of Appleton, was appointed professor of medicine of Ann Arbor university.

Resume of American and Foreign Newspaper Opinion
THE ARREST OF GENERAL SEMENOFF
Although certain newspaper editors are inclined to doubt the propriety of the federal government allowing the arrest of General Semenov, the former anti-Bolshevik Russian leader on a claim made in behalf of a bankrupt corporation the majority of the comment justifies the action because of the opinion of the Cossack entertained by General Graves and other American officers. He never should have been permitted to enter the country in the opinion of the New York GLOBE which insists that "although in this country ostensibly for business and personal reasons Semenov is the head of a movement against the present regime in Siberia and is understood to be on his way to consult with the Russian National committee in Paris. His presence in this country for even a few weeks is in sad contrast to the treatment we give law-abiding men who attempt to come here to earn an honest living." His admission to the country has received money and supplies from Great Britain, France and Japan brings the suggestion from the New York CALL, that "the three governments mentioned were double crossing the American forces when they were in Siberia. Our hope is that the American firm will get every cent it is suing for and that Semenov will have to leave the country with a tomato can and ham sandwich for his equipment in a cattleboat and chumming with his kind on the journey."
The possibility exists, however, in the opinion of the Sioux City, Ia., JOURNAL, that the American courts are being used by the Soviet agents to persecute the Russian leader. It suggests that his looting was small compared with that of the Soviets themselves and adds that "if justice were done in all the cases that Russian misery has developed there is little doubt that many high officials of the present Soviet government would suffer the loss of their lives or liberty." And the Baltimore SUN, wonders whether if "Semenoff had not been unkindly would anybody be calling him a bandit and a thief?" Lenin and Trotsky have appropriated the whole of Russia and are hated by Bolshevik millions as to the political saviors of the world. Semenov takes a lot of paltry blankets and furs to keep warm with in the cold climate of Siberia and he must answer for it in a New York court." The New York WORLD likewise would have his position made clear inasmuch as "his role in the recent history of Siberia has been very considerable. If we knew all about Semenov we should know more about the problem of Siberia and why the Washington conference found it so intangible. It is to be hoped therefore that some way will be found in court of having Gen. Graves, Mr. Smith and Semenov tell what they know."
In the sense that he was not acting under any recognized government Semenov "was of course a bandit." The Buffalo, N. Y., EXPRESS concedes but neither did Kolchak, Deniken, Wrangel or Yudenitch it points out and recalls that "we have not recognized any faction in Russia as constituting a definite government since the republic headed by Lovoff was overthrown. There is evidently an interesting political end connected with the Semenov arrest and it may throw light on many matters which are now obscure." The American people also must judge Semenov in the light of the conditions and events of which he was a part in the opinion of the Cleveland PLAIN DEALER which is "inclined to believe that Gregori, the Cossack, had to be rather rough and bloody to get along in Siberia. But in America, this son of the steppe is urbanely and genteel, depriving every though not apologetic. He thinks it rather a shame that he had to be arrested and a good many Americans, remembering what he did to the Bolsheviks, will be inclined to agree with him."
Beginning with 1917 his military operation could be compared to the Springfield, Mass., REPUBLICAN, points out, "with the raids such as Gen. Villa before he reformed might have made on Texas After the Kolchak campaign began he operated in the east and along the railway line and his depredations were often a menace to Kolchak and a nuisance to the American army commanded by Gen. Graves which was trying to keep order. But Semenov had Japanese support and was as elusive and annoying as a gadfly." Conceding this however, the Providence, R. I., TRIBUNE, points out "that it probably will be very hard to get a jury to give a verdict against Semenov with the Kaiser unpunished," while the Mobile, Ala., REGISTER, points to the fact that Semenov has pointed out "quite cheerfully that there was no such stealing going on that no one could possibly say who got anything or what became of it." Which leads the REGISTER to conclude that "evidently it was a paradise of thieves then in Siberia."
There already were enough bandits in New York without importing another in the belief of the Lexington, Ky., LEADER, which unqualifiedly approves the arrest and insists that "this career in Siberia since the war has been marked by the most ruthless destruction of property and human life, by stratagems and spoils without name, and his flight to the United States has been made necessary to escape the vengeance that dogs his steps. If this man is not an undesirable alien then none have ever visited our shores. That he has not been arrested before this is a cause for wonder by the Waterbury, Conn., REPUBLICAN, which believes that "probably he regrets that he left the land of freebooting for the land of freedom."
The arrest, in the opinion of the Akron, O., RHACON JOURNAL, "is a pitiful reflection on the intelligence of our own authorities in the state department. They do not know whether to judge our Cossack friend as a political refugee, an undesirable alien or a distinguished guest." To which the Minneapolis, MINNESOTA STAR adds that "he no doubt is a sentimentalist. Most butchers and most imperialists are. They justify their bloody hands with humanitarian jargon."
NITTI'S DIFFICULTIES
Milan — The SECOLO takes the opportunity of recalling the great difficulties of the former Nitti ministry on the occasion of the ex-premier's recent speech. It says: "Nitti had the honor of governing the country at the most difficult moment of our history. Italy had emerged gloriously from the great war but was mutilated in body and soul; general discontent prevailed; the masses were wavering between Wilson's ideas and the myth of revolutionary Russia; and the middle classes, who had never believed in the necessity for war had become more sceptic and desperate than ever."
The government was confronted with endless difficulties in these days. Nitti had to contend with an extraordinary number of great problems which were ever increasing. There was the demobilization of the army and of industry and the crisis in raw materials, the concluding of the peace treaty and the Adriatic question, aggravated by the d'Annunzio episode; the terrible food crisis, the invasion of the land, causing decrease in production; the high prices and the salary crisis; the necessity of opening larger markets to Italy. To cap the climax there were the great strikes of public services and the uncertainty of the morrow weighing heavily on everybody. "Nitti governed at a time when the very foundations of the state seemed to be sinking in the sand. His great strength lay in his fearless optimism, in a providential blindness which kept him from desperation. And the masses believed instinctively that head of government was a liberal, a real democrat, a man whose intelligence was only equalled by his goodness. His policy made them feel that the state was not their enemy and that the mother country was common property to all of them."
"Nitti's speeches found immediate response in the country. In large towns as well as in the remotest villages, his words were the only ones listened to which found an echo and a response in the minds of the multitudes. Each one of his speeches was followed by a period of peace and quietness and if they did not actually prevent strikes at least they hindered the united front of the strikers. We can only think with horror of what dark days our country would have had to pass through if the three great strikes had taken place simultaneously—the railway, the post and telegraph and the merchant service—coming Italy from the rest of the world. The amnesty for deserters has been deplored and rightly so, and patriotism grieves at certain expressions with regard to d'Annunzio. It has been said that he allowed disorder and undisciplined methods, and this is true, but it must be remembered that he governed with a few thousand Carabinieri (Italian soldiers), and that his tolerance did not prevent them from becoming three times as many, nor from forming the royal guard corps, the militia of democratic police."
"The reactionaries cannot pardon his sympathies with the disinherited classes but they pretend not to know that during his government the invasion of the factories was prevented by energetic means."
"The 'Fascisti' reproach him with hard words against d'Annunzio, but he provided Fiume with food and saved the people from starvation and would have never tolerated civil war. He has been accused of Bolshevism but no recognition of the Bolshevik government was offered."
"It has been said lately that in his recent speech he was aspiring by his political concessions to a system of conservative ideas. This is really a wonderful discovery!"
BIRD NESTING UP TO DATE
London — The bird-nesting season is beginning. Clear and well-dressed men have been sullying forth into the fields and hedgerows, to return with torn clothes and their hands scratched and full of thorns, declared the DAILY MAIL.
This spring, however, science comes to the rescue, and bird-nesting can be accomplished without loss of decorum by the most fastidious little Lord Fauntleroy. A device has been put on the market consisting of a swivel circular mirror with a screw handle that fits into a socketed rod in sections. When the mirror is in place this personage is raised, rod by rod, until poised over the nest, as it shows whether there are any eggs in it. Thus many an eggless climb is avoided.
Another gift of science which is being offered by makers of naturalists' requisites is a little net on a bendable socket with a long metal handle, whereby, without incurring rent clothing and scratched wrists, the bird-nester can levy his toll of eggs after having ascertained their presence with the periscope.
WOES OF THE UNSUCCESSFUL
London — The Rome correspondent of the Express says: "A 'Society of Jackals' has been founded at Rome, and is in full swing. Branches of this society are being constituted in the various large centres of Italy. It is composed of disappointed theatrical authors who finding that theatre managers will not produce their works, have banded together to boot the productions of luckier authors."
Sometimes the jackals have effect, as recently, when they caused the failure of a French work in Rome, and "The Island of Monkeys," at Milan. Italian producers, however, have not yet agreed to take the Jackals seriously.

What Handwriting Tells
By Albert J. Smith
The style of handwriting affected by President Warren G. Harding is the typical journalistic hand.
It denotes the cool, deliberate scrawl of the trained executive with well-seasoned powers of deduction. It is a strong hand. This conclusion is obtained from the semi-angularity of the script, the consistent joining of the letters without a break and the decreasing or wedge shape of the writing.
Harding has a strong intellect. The powers of deep concentration are well developed and the faculty of diplomacy is well marked.
We discover these qualifications in the tendency to small writing, the continuity of the pen strokes and the wedge-shaped words "Warren" and "Harding."
The president has more or less of an impenetrable nature. It is difficult to get behind his motives. He is the deep thinker, the student of facts. He cannot be hurried; he must "be shown."
To the casual observer, Harding would convey the impression that he is slow to move and lacking in aggressiveness. This is due to his impenetrability, for he has the faculty of arriving at his conclusions without attracting undue attention. There is nothing "Barnumistic" in his motions; there is no ostentation, or bombast.
We know that Harding has a keen mind. This is determined by the sharp turns of his writing which he unconsciously tries to incorporate into his usually rounded a's and o's. Observe the unpretentious under-

Q. How has the number of deaths from drinking increased since prohibition went into effect? A. J. P.
A. The prohibition commissioner says that the number of deaths from alcohol in most places has not increased in spite of the deaths of unfortunate victims of hard alcohol. Alcohol were 563; in 1921, 119.
Q. Did Edison invent the radio-graph? J. V. N.
A. Edison was not the inventor of the radiograph. A German named Hertz was the first in the field. Then Marconi, an Italian, developed the idea. Since then many improvements and developments have been made by various people.
Q. What is a russet orange? W. H. D.
A. The department of agriculture says that the word "russet" has been applied to oranges, but the word "russet" is more generally used. It is used to describe an orange in a case where insects have interfered with the outer layer of skin. Such oranges are considered as sweet and as desirable as other oranges since the insects simply interfere with the color and do not injure the quality of the fruit.
Q. Is John Burroughs, the naturalist, alive? C. A. G.
A. John Burroughs died on March 29, 1921.
Q. Is the name Bull Durham trademarked? H. F.
A. The American Tobacco company says that the trade name consists of the words Bull Durham used singly or collectively, with, or without, the picture of the bull, which trademark name is the property of the company.
Q. What does Santa Fe mean? J. D. S.
A. The words Santa Fe mean holy or sacred faith.
Q. When was the game of checkers invented? T. E. E.
A. The game of draughts or checkers is said to be one of the greatest antiquity. Pieces of checker boards and men have been found in tombs of Egyptian rulers of a date not later than 1600 B. C. Some of these are at present preserved in the British Museum. Homer in his "Odyssey" speaks about this game being played by the suitors of Penelope.
Q. What term regarding England corresponds to our Wall Street? C. W. A.
A. In the United States the term Lombard street is used to denote London's stock exchange. In England, however, Lombard street and Threadneedle Street refer more particularly to the banking element and Capel street and Throgmorton street are used to designate the district of the stock exchange. Wall Street is used in this country as a name for both the banking interests and the stock market.
Q. Why is the meat of some birds such as the dove all dark in color, while that of others is part light and part dark? L. B. S.
A. The bureau of biological survey says very little data have been compiled regarding the reason that some birds have all dark flesh and others part light and part dark. It has been observed, however, that birds in which the power of flight is well developed have more dark meat than others.
Q. Has Washington's home always been known as "Mount Vernon"? K. O. P.
A. The original name of the Washington estate was "Hunting Creek," and it was changed to Mount Vernon by Lawrence Washington in honor of Admiral Vernon of the British Navy.
Q. When was the first glee club formed? J. T.
A. In 1787 a "glee club" was formed in London, which flourished until 1857. Since this style of music which was peculiar to England and was not written until the middle of the eighteenth century, this glee club was probably the first of any importance.

score of Harding's signature, the tall like appendage to the "g" in Harding gracefully sweeping into a slight curve, without the customary dash of the egotist. This denotes moral courage and refinement, with prudence and that sense of regulation and character upheld at all costs.

GIRLS ARE READY TO PRESENT PLAY

Splendid Scenery Has Been Arranged for "Rose of Plymouth Town" Tonight

Miles Standish' cottage has been erected on the stage of Lawrence Memorial chapel, a high backed set, an old fashioned spinning wheel, which really spins, old, old firearms, pewter dishes, ancient candlesticks have been borrowed to furnish the house and every thing is ready for the presentation of "Rose of Plymouth Town" by the members of Dramatic club of Appleton Womens club on Thursday evening.

So much has been said by those who have seen the dress rehearsals and practice of the girls concerning the high rank of their acting that the girls are shivering in their boots, figuratively, for fear that the public will not be lenient with their attempts at masculine character portrayal. The final rehearsal on Wednesday went off well and found the girls ready for the big performance. Miss Anita Gochnauer assisted Miss Gladys Bagge, the director of the club, in the last rehearsals.

A great deal of time and effort has been spent by the girls in working out the small details of the performance. They have scoured the town for setting and have rushed frantically from one person who has relics and antiques to another. The spinning wheel was loaned by Mrs. Henrietta P. Brill and it came from Holland. Mrs. P. S. Brandford loaned the high backed settle, while all the firearms and ammunitions was loaned by the Galpin family. Col. Hugh E. Pomery loaned his saber and sword belt for the occasion. Smaller articles were gathered in from other friends of the girls and of Appleton Womens club.

Girls who had charge of the ticket sale have been asked to turn in all their unsold tickets at once.

S. H. Anderson and W. R. Anderson, both of Fond du Lac, were Appleton visitors Wednesday.

S. S. WORKERS TO BOOST COMMUNITY PLANS AT BANQUET

Ten Churches to Participate in Gathering to Further Religious Interests

Furthering the idea of community cooperation along religious lines, Sunday school officers and teachers of ten Appleton churches will hold a joint banquet and booster meeting Monday evening, May 8, under auspices of Appleton Council of Religious Education.

It is planned to hold the event in the Y. M. C. A. and to have state and local speakers, among whom will be J. L. Rogers, Oshkosh, executive secretary of the Wisconsin Sunday School association. Prof. E. E. Emme, community religious director, will give a report on the recent national convention of the National Council of Religious Education in Chicago, and the Rev. C. Willard Cross will talk on the recent state Sunday school convention at Kenosha, at which he was a speaker.

This gathering climaxes the community religious activities conducted during the year by a group of cooperating churches, including the First Congregational, First Methodist, Memorial Presbyterian, Emanuel Evangelical, Baptist, German Methodist, First Reformed, All Saints Episcopal and Trinity English Lutheran churches.

The relation between the Sunday school, the three community religious enterprises, the community training school, the week-day Bible school and the daily vacation Bible school, will be shown by the speakers in their talks. The hearers will have explained to them that the community activities do not replace the Bible schools of the various churches, but supplement them.

Prof. Emme is leading preparations for the religious education night, and is assisted by officers of the community council. There are Judson G. Rosebush, president, F. J. Harwood,

DR. FOOTE CONTINUES HIS DENTAL PRACTICE

Examination of equipment in the dental office of Dr. W. J. Foote, destroyed by fire Wednesday morning, disclosed that the doctor had two complete dental outfits, one of which was destroyed by fire and the other damaged by smoke and water. The damaged outfit has been salvaged however, and is in shape for use. Dr. Foote has established an office in the quarters occupied by Dr. A. E. Rector in the Kresge building and is ready to receive his patients.

Dr. F. F. McGrath, who also suffered some loss in the fire, has moved his equipment to another suite of rooms in the Keller building and is continuing his practice without interruption.

Clothes Ruined—Mystery Solved

By GRACE BARTON

Do you know what causes those thin spots and little holes in your nearly new sheets, towels, napkins and tablecloths? Can you answer for waists and underwear that come from the wash looking frayed and gray?

Don't blame the goods nor the woman who washes. First find out whether your laundry soap has "filler" in it to make a little soap look like a large bar. Women who use ordinary white and yellow laundry soap are often rubbing "filler" into their clothes instead of rubbing dirt out. This wears out the woman and the clothes; besides it rots the fabric or cuts the threads, for much of the "filler" in laundry soap is made from water glass which crystallizes when the clothes dry.

My advice is to ask your grocer for the large, greenish, all-soap bar called GREEN ARROW, made by The Palmolive Co. It is probably the first home laundry bar containing olive oil combined with naphtha. And nothing makes clothes softer and fresher than olive oil. This is why fabric makers wash with olive oil soap.

Have you never wondered why you couldn't get a laundry soap with olive oil when you knew it was so cleansing and softening and mild? Well, olive oil would be too expensive for laundry soap, except that The Palmolive Co. buys it in such huge quantities and has also reduced the cost of manufacture.

Being all soap, GREEN ARROW is all cleaning power and hence goes nearly twice as far as ordinary soap that is only part soap. And it never burns the hands.

SISTERS WED AT DOUBLE SERVICE

Misses Leona and Veronica Lorge Are Brides at Ceremony at Bear Creek

Special to The Post-Crescent
Bear Creek.—A double wedding was solemnized here Tuesday when the Misses Leona and Veronica Lorge, sisters, became the brides, respectively, of August Homan, Bear Creek, and Joseph Young, Deer Creek. The brides are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Lorge. Mr. Homan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Homan, Shiocton.

Both weddings took place in St. Mary church Tuesday morning. The Rev. C. T. Thompson performed the ceremony for Miss Leona Lorge and Mr. Homan, and the Rev. Henry Kuhl, Clintonville, for Miss Veronica Lorge and Mr. Young. Attendants for the former couple were Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Gnyette, Miss Margie Robman and Edward Hurley. Those attending the latter couple were Miss Mabel Young, James Thebo, Miss Evelyn Thebo and John Young. Both brides wore dresses of Copenhagen blue silk taffeta and veils and carried pink and white carnations.

Relatives of the couple were guests at a wedding reception at the home of the brides' parents and a wedding dance was given at the opera house in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Homan and Mr. and Mrs. Young left on honeymoon trips to nearby points and will be at home to friends after April 25. The former will reside at Bear Creek village and the latter on a farm east of Deer Creek.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. William Homan and family of Shiocton; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young and family, Maple Creek, and Mr. and Mrs. Laux and family, Clintonville.

PLAN PROGRAM FOR GRANT CENTENNIAL

Kaukauna.—Kaukauna schools are operating with Kaukauna post of the American legion in arranging a program to celebrate the Grant centennial which occurs Thursday, April 27. A patriotic program will be given on the evening of that day in the city auditorium. The life of Grant will be described by pupils of the grade and high schools.

The program will open with singing of the national song by the audience. Efforts are being made to secure a speaker. The committee in charge has been in communication with Attorney James McGillan of Green Bay but up to Wednesday no word had been received from him.

WATER IS HIGHER NOW THAN OLDEST RESIDENT RECALLS

Situation Was Grave in Electric City Wednesday — Use Many Sandbags

Kaukauna.—For the first time this year the water situation Wednesday became grave enough to command the attention of the city. The water had been steadily rising for the last two days and Wednesday morning it reached a point where it was necessary to plant sand bags to prevent the water from running over the banks.

A crew of about 50 men was engaged all day Wednesday filling and hauling sand bags and placing them along points of the river that were low. By Wednesday the river had raised until the water was trickling over the stone embankment at the edge of the power dam. A strip of the bank about 40 feet in length from the head of the dam to the boat houses of the Canoe Club was filled in with planks and bags of sand in order to keep the water in its course.

Old inhabitants cannot remember of a time when the water reached its present level. All efforts to keep the flow out of the basement of the municipal foundation were useless and Wednesday the pumps were removed and the water was allowed to run in unrestricted except by boards which were nailed over the openings.

Sand bags were placed along the street which runs along the river past the auditorium and the city hall. Word that the dams in Neenah and Appleton had been opened further and that the water would rise about eight inches caused the men to prepare for higher water.

Six or seven box cars were piled out on the railroad bridge which crossed the river from the island to the mill to prevent damage to the bridge, the bottom of which was being washed by the swirling water.

KAUKAUNA SIGNS FIRST BASEMAN

Kaukauna.—William A. Ryens of Ironwood, crack first baseman has signed the contract to play with Kaukauna during the coming season. As yet no pitcher has been secured. Effort has been made to arrange a practice game next Sunday but the weather made it impossible to use the grounds. It is probable a preliminary game or two will be played the last Sundays before the opening game of the season on May 14.

Stock is now being sold at $1 a share. It may be purchased at Mulford's clothing store, city electric light office on the south side, and Hagenberg's on the north side. The company is incorporated for $5,000. Scores of such as were used last season are being printed. Aphonsie Berens, who is in charge of the printing, said he was having no difficulty in securing advertisers for the card. About 20 business men already have responded, he said.

Social Items

Kaukauna.—Patients of Riverview sanatorium were entertained at a surprise program Wednesday evening by the Sunshine club. Following the program Mrs. Anna Kuehne acted as hostess and refreshments were served. The following persons took part in the program: Mrs. L. G. Schussman, Miss Edna Ruff, Miss Ethel Coppes, Miss Esther Mau was accompanist. Vocal solos were rendered by Miss Coppes and Mrs. Schussman. Miss Ruff entertained the patients with whistling selections.

Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Driessen entertained about 50 friends at a dancing party in their home Tuesday evening. Old time dances featured the entertainment.

The Schafkopf club met Tuesday evening at the home of Casper Pörgan. First prize was won by John Pörgan and consolation prize was awarded to Arnold Deering.

Just buy Diamond Dyes—no other kind—then your material will come out right, because Diamond Dyes are guaranteed not to streak, spot, fade or run. Tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods.

RUNAWAY YOUTHS CAUGHT IN ILLINOIS

Kaukauna.—Officer John Haid returned Tuesday evening from Kolo, Ill., with Tom Williams, 14 and Carl Kessler, 12, who took unauthorized leave of absence from their homes Saturday evening. The boys were pulled off a train in Illinois by the police and were held until Mr. Haid arrived to escort them home.

Williams was taken into court in Appleton Wednesday charged with incorrigibility and trial was postponed until April 24, upon petition of Williams' father for a jury trial. Young Kessler, was placed on probation.

KAUKAUNA PERSONALS
Kaukauna.—Carl Runte left Wednesday for Minneapolis to return to school after spending his Easter vacation at his home.

Mrs. Mike Corcoran of Beloit, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Minkbeige.

George Fessler of Sheboygan, traveling with the Frank Winger Co., now in Green Bay, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Runte Wednesday.

Mrs. John Kline is in the hospital in Fond du Lac, where she submitted to an operation Monday.

Mrs. George Drewsen of Fort Atkinson, is a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Minkbeige.

Misses Helen Dietzler and Loretta Wenzlaff were in Appleton Wednesday on business.

Harvey Abel and William Strong of Antigo, have been visiting relatives in this city for two weeks. They have been unable to return home because of the condition of the road and high water.

J. O. Fosson is in Milwaukee and Madison on a two day business trip. The Womens Christian Temperance union will meet at 2:30 Friday afternoon in the public library.

Will Visit Scotland
John Tolland will leave early next month for Scotland where he expects to spend a few months. Arrangements for transportation were made through Mayor Henry Reuter.

After Sickness What You Need is Vinol

Here Is Proof:—Moodus, Conn.—"The 'Flu' left me run-down with a weak heart and stomach, so I would often have sinking spells, and it was hard for me to keep around and do my housework. No matter what I took I did not seem to gain, but one day I read about Vinol in a paper and decided to try it. I soon felt better, and it has built me up so fast that I can truly say it is the finest remedy known. It has proved 'worth its weight in gold' to me, as it has restored my health so quickly."—Mrs. Wm. H. LYMAN, Moodus, Conn.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at very little cost. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

NEITHER HALL NOR SCHNEIDER GETS HELP FROM BLAINE

LaFollette-Blaine Machine Will Keep Middle of Road in Fall Primaries

Neither George J. Schneider of Appleton nor Elmer S. Hall of Green Bay, candidates for the Republican nomination for congress from the Ninth Wisconsin district, will have the support of the LaFollette-Blaine groups in the primaries, according to Governor Blaine. "In a letter to a Progressive leader in Appleton Governor Blaine said both he and Senator LaFollette will adhere to a 'middle of the road' policy in the coming primary campaign in the Ninth district."

Mr. Schneider received the endorsement for congress over Mr. Hall at a meeting of Progressive leaders in Green Bay on April 9 but Mr. Hall has announced he will not withdraw from the race for nomination for congress. In his letter to the Appleton man, Governor Blaine said it would be unfortunate if both Mr. Schneider and Mr. Hall remained in the race as it would mean that neither would receive the nomination. He said, however, neither he nor Senator LaFollette would endorse either candidate.

Progressive leaders of Outagamie county will meet in Appleton Trades and Labor hall Sunday afternoon when a county organization will be perfected and plans made for furthering the candidacy of Mr. Schneider for the Republican nomination for congress.

DAILY REHEARSALS ARE HELD FOR "HER GLOVES"

Rehearsals will be held every evening this week in St. Joseph hall by the cast of the play, "Her Gloves", which is to be presented in the hall Sunday and Monday evenings under direction of George T. Richard. Some genuinely good humor and entertainment is to be provided the audience when Walter Dillingham, a real estate dealer, played by John Hollenback, and his father-in-law, Jefferson Ruggles, played by Henry Stoebauer, attempt to explain their various deals to their wives. Miss Delia Schmidt plays the role of Blanche Dillingham, and Miss Gladys Kranhold that of Mrs. Ruggles.

Arbor Day Has Lost Its Significance To Youth

Do you remember the old Arbor day of 15 and 20 years ago?

How young folks in the schools looked forward to it quite as much as to Memorial day. Fourth of July or other holidays? How the little old red school and its premises submitted to the spring housecleaning and boys and girls took real pleasure in working on this one day of the year? When the schoolmaster read the president's proclamation, a sweet young miss declaimed "Woodman, spare that tree" and the whole school joined in singing songs about the "Pretty Flowers" and things. And how they would plant trees for every class in school?

Well, it appears that Arbor Day has been on the decline in late years, judging from the lack of observance or even knowledge of the day. Arbor day exercises are held in only a small number of schools today, according to local school officials. There is still some observance in the rural schools, said Miss Florence Jenkins, county superintendent of schools, that observance being mostly in the nature of a clean-up day. In the city schools it is expected that some program in the interests of forest conservation will be carried out. It was learned from Principal Lee C. Rusey of the high school. It was pointed out, however, that the matter of forest protection and preservation of wild life is now stressed in the schools practically the year round and not merely on Arbor day.

Arbor day in Wisconsin has been set for May 5 by Governor Blaine in a proclamation issued Wednesday in which he declared that it is "vitally important that planting of trees, beautifying of parks, roadways, public grounds, and the preservation of wild life be promoted." The day has been named "Arbor and Bird day." National Arbor day was set for April 22 by President Harding, but this is considered too early for Wisconsin's late spring.

"IT'S HELPING ME AFTER ALL OTHERS HAD FAILED," SAYS APPLETON WOMAN

Dubuque Man Who Has Gained 10 Pounds Thru Use of Famous Tonic

J. P. FRANCOIS

"When I began using Trutona I'd almost given up hopes of getting relief from my nervousness and stomach trouble, but I actually gained ten pounds the first two weeks I used Trutona and I simply feel like a different man today," says J. P. Francois, 356 Bluff-st., Dubuque, Ia. "I could see a change for the better soon after beginning the use of Trutona," he continued. "This great medicine quieted my nerves so that I could sleep fine. I've a splendid appetite now and it seems my stomach will digest anything I want to eat, as I'm never bothered with gas formations or constipation any more. Trutona's really done for me what no other medicine ever did and I'm thoroughly convinced it's all that's claimed for it."

FAMOUS TONIC IS WINNING FAVOR BY LEAPS AND BOUNDS

The popularity of Trutona, famous tonic now being introduced and placed at SCHLINTZ BROTHERS' Drug Store, is increasing by leaps and bounds.

Two weeks ago, through the columns of this paper, Appleton residents were told that they would find Trutona absolutely DIFFERENT from the average proprietary medicine placed on the market in the past ten years. Today, scores of local people who have begun the use of Trutona, fully realize the truth of this statement.

Trutona is not a so-called "discovery," it is not a hastily compounded preparation, marketed for the purpose of obtaining hard-earned money from the unfortunate sick man or woman, without benefit to either, through the sale of a single bottle. Trutona is a SCIENTIFICALLY compounded remedy, prepared under the care of a skilled chemist and possessed of merit that brings repeat sales to the number of men and women who realize that they have at last found a MERITORIOUS preparation which will overcome their troubles. Trutona is unexcelled for overcoming after-effects of influenza, pneumonia, coughs, colds, and is equally effective in cases of dizziness, headaches, back, side and chest pain, nervousness, anaemia, constipation and the like.

TRUTONA, the Famous Root, Bark and Herb Tonic, Which Scores of Appleton Residents Are Now Taking, Is Being Specially Introduced and Explained At SCHLINTZ BROS.' Drug Store, Where It is Highly Recommended for the Treatment of Stomach, Liver, Kidney, Bowel, Blood Troubles and as a Reconstructive Agency, System Purifier and General Body Invigorant.

Declares Stomach Acts Almost Like New, Since She's Taken Famous Tonic
Trutona—Gas Formations, Heavy Distressed Feeling All Relieved.

"I had spent a great deal of money on different medicines but nothing helped me at all, until recently, when I began using this new medicine Trutona and without exaggeration, my stomach acts almost like new now," was the remarkable assertion of Mrs. Frank Sperl, wife of an employee of the Atlas Paper Mill and for thirty-five years a well-known and respected Appleton resident of 1265 Spencer-st. a few days ago.

"For many years my stomach had caused me lots of agony and suffering," Mrs. Sperl continued. "I suffered terribly from gas formations after eating and often my stomach would feel so tight and full I could hardly get my breath. It seemed that everything I ate soured in my stomach and I always had a sour, bitter taste in my mouth. My bowels were irregular in action, too. But in spite of my long standing troubles, Trutona's already given me more relief than all the other medicines I've ever taken. Why, I scarcely notice those former painful gas formations in my stomach now and that heavy, full, distressed feeling has all disappeared. Food doesn't sour in my stomach any more and the bitter taste has disappeared from my mouth. My bowels act regularly every day now, of their own accord. In fact, I feel fully 100 per cent improved today and I just know a trial will convince other Appleton people of the truth of this statement."

Trutona, now being introduced at Schlitz Bros. Store is famous for its effective action on the stomach, famous, because it has enabled thousands to rid themselves of painful and annoying gas formations, belching, bloating, heartburn, sick headaches and the like. It gave Mrs. Sperl relief after many others had failed—and Trutona will do the same for YOU!

PROSPECT STREET RESIDENT GLADLY ADDS TESTIMONY

"I Can Honestly Recommend Trutona to Anyone For Constipation," She Declares

Trutona has won the unstinted praise of thousands as an unsurpassed remedy for constipation. Unlike many harsh purgatives, which induce unnatural bowel action, followed again by constipation, Trutona REGULATES the bowels. Hundreds of grateful users have testified that their bowel action continued perfectly, long after the use of Trutona had been discontinued. Mrs. G. P. Courtney, 326 Prospect-st., Appleton, says: "As a result of a deranged liver I became a sufferer from constipation and had been so for many years. Everything I tried failed to relieve me—that is, until I began using Trutona recently, and I'm certainly perfectly satisfied with the results I've received from this medicine. I can honestly and conscientiously recommend Trutona to anyone who is suffering from constipation."

Countless people have rid themselves of the dangerous and nauseating use of strong purgatives, just as did Mrs. Courtney, through Trutona's REGULATING effect on the bowels. As everyone knows, but few follow, the bowels should always be kept open and functioning freely. Nothing will so quickly undermine the health of any person as faulty bowel action. YOU can rid yourself of constipation and do it in a perfectly natural and lasting manner, by taking Trutona!

RELIANCE COMPANY IS IN BANKRUPTCY

Voluntary Petition Schedules Assets at $188,000 and Liabilities at $262,000

A voluntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed in federal court in Milwaukee by the Reliance Motor Truck Co. of Appleton. The petition was signed by A. G. Brusewitz as president.

Assets of the company were scheduled at $188,000 and liabilities at $262,000. Assets include the building, valued at $50,000 in the inventory; material, $75,000 and machinery and equipment valued at $37,000. The remainder of the assets are in notes receivable and accounts receivable.

It is planned to continue operation of the plant on a small scale during the period of bankruptcy in order to provide service for trucks which are in use. The Reliance company was formed about four years ago and for a time was successful. The sudden drop in demand for automobiles caught the local company with considerable high priced material on hand and it found it difficult to weather the storm.

"Long pause. Frightful pause. Whole court holding its breath. Silent as that. Empty as that. What the devil was he thinking of? Had he forgotten? Was he awake now to the frightful places he kept getting into and wondering if this was another and where exactly it lay? Appalling pause. Dashed woman some where in the court goes off into hysterics and dragged out. He didn't hear a scream of it, that poor battered chap in the box. Just stood there, gray as a raked-out fire. Face twitching. Awful. I tell you, awful. Nearly went into hysterics myself. Humpo stopping his tongue around his jaws, watching him like a dog watching its dinner being cut up. After about two years, slaps in his tongue and demands. 'Come sir, for what purpose did you buy this oxalic acid?'"

"Sabre gives his first clear, calculated words since he had not out there. I guess he had been pulling himself together to look for a trap. He said very slowly, trying each word like a chap feeling along on thin ice: he said: 'Right—asked—me—to—get—it—to—clean—my—straw—hat—for—me—for—Brighton.'"

"Did she clean your straw hat for you?"

"No."

"You don't appear to be wearing it?"

"Shakes."

"Pray, where, then, is this straw hat to clean which you obtained the oxalic acid? Is it at your house?"

"Shakes."

"Where then?"

"Look here—"

"Answer the question, sir. Where is this straw hat?"

"Look here—" Gulps. 'Look here—'

Gulps again. 'Look here, I lost it in the sea at Brighton.'

"Humpo draws in his breath. Stares at him for two solid minutes without speaking. Then says, like one speaking to a ghost. 'You lost it in the sea at Brighton? Has an inspiration. Inspiring in hell. Turns like a flash to the coroner. 'I have done with this witness, sir.' Sits down. Humpo, court lets go its breath like the four winds round a chimney. Sabre staggers out of the box. Falls across into his seat."

"Too much for me, old man. I hawled out, people in front of me nearly jumping out of their skins with the start. I hawled out. Mr. Coroner, I saw the witness at Brighton, and he told me he'd lost his hat in the sea."

"Buddha, like a talking idol discovering an infidel in his temple. 'Who are you, sir?'"

"I'm a solicitor. I'm Mr. Sabre's solicitor."

"Buddha to Sabre: 'Have you a solicitor in the court, Sabre?'"

"No. No. Get away! Get out of it! Get away from me!"

"You have no standing in this court, sir," says Buddha.

"Awful. Nothing to be done."

"Presently Twynning in the box. Last witness—put up to screw down the lid on Sabre's coffin, to polish up the argument before it went to the jury. Stood there with the venom frothing at the corners of his mouth, stood there a man straight out of the loins of Judas Iscariot, stood there making his testimony more damning by pretending it was being dragged out of him. Told a positively damning story about meeting Sabre at the station on his departure from leave a day after the girl was sacked. Noticed how strange his manner was; noticed he didn't like being asked about circumstances of her dismissal; noticed his wife didn't come to see him off. Yes, thought it odd. Sabre had explained wife had a cold, but saw Mrs. Sabre in Tidborough very next day. Yes, thought the whole thing funny because had frequently seen Sabre and the girl together during Sabre's leave. Yes, notably in the Croister tea room late one evening. Well, yes, had thought their behavior odd, secretive. Had he ever had occasion in the past, in earlier days, to remonstrate with Sabre concerning attitude towards girls? Well, scarcely liked to say so, hated to say so, but certainly there had been such occasions. Yes, had spoken seriously to Sabre about it."

"There ripped across the court as he said that, old man, a woman's voice from the back. 'It's a lie. It's an abominable lie. And you know it's a lie.'"

"Eh? Terrible? I tell you, terrible isn't the word. 'Silence! How dare you, madam! Turn out that woman! Who is that?'"

"Comotion. A woman pressed out from the mob behind and walked up the court like a goddess, like Poria, by Jove, like Euphrosyne. 'Let no one dare to touch me,' she said. 'I am Lady Tybar. Everyone knows me here. I've just come in, just heard. This shameful business. All of you killing him between you.' She pointed a hand at Twynning. 'And you, I tell you before all this court, and you may take what steps you like. I tell you that you are a liar, an experienced, and calculating liar. And she went with that to old Sabre and stooped over him and touched him with both her hands and said, 'Marko, Marko.'"

"Matter of fact Sabre was the first one to speak. He threw up his arm from where he'd been cowering his face just as he'd thrown it up when I called out, and threw her hands aside and called out. 'Don't touch me. Let me alone. Leave me alone.'"

"She motioned to the man beside him, and the chap got up as if her motion had been Cicer's and disappeared. And she took his place and sat down beside Sabre and poor old Sabre crouched away from her as if he was stung, and old Buddha, reaching out for his dignity, said, 'You may remain there, madam, if you do not interrupt the court.'

"There wasn't much more to interrupt. Twynning had had about as much as he wanted; he'd done what he was out to do, anyway. The case finished. The coroner had a go at the jury. They went on. I suppose they were gone ten minutes. Shuffled in again. Gave their verdict. I was watching Sabre. He took down his hands from his face and started with all the world's agony in his face straining himself forward to hear. Verdict. They found suicide while temporarily insane and added their most severe censure of the conduct of the witness Sabre. He jumped up and flung out his hands 'Look here— Look here— Censure! Censure! Censure!'"

"Dropped back on his seat like he was shot. Twisted himself up. Sat rocking."

"Court cleared in less than no time."

INSTALL IMMENSE RADIO TELEPHONE

Washington. — A powerful radio broadcasting telephone outfit, which it is said will be strong enough so that the entire country could hear a message of President Harding before congress, is being installed at the big Arlington naval wireless station near here. The outfit will have the largest wave length of any similar device in the world, experts say.

BIG AUDIENCE IS DELIGHTED WITH COLLEGE SINGERS

Glee Club Appears to Splendid Advantage in Ensemble and Solo Numbers

More than 800 people heard the home concert of the Lawrence College Mens Glee club in Lawrence Memorial chapel Wednesday evening and were pleased with the splendid program of ensemble and solo numbers. In the final concert as well as everywhere on the trip, the ensemble numbers proved the most popular of the program. The club with its well balanced voices has achieved perfect response to the will of the conductor, Carl J. Waterman, to whom credit for the success of the club is largely due.

Those who have heard the Glee club concerts from year to year were disappointed in the solos by Winfield Alexander, the blind singer and student, who was in bad voice because of a hard cold which effected the quality of his lower tones. Mr. Alexander's numbers are usually among the best of the program. "Fair Lawrence" with which the club opened its program was arranged by Mr. Alexander for the coming seventy-ninth anniversary jubilee of the college. His voice in "This is Irish Girl I Love," showed more nearly the quality of his singing.

FEATURE NUMBERS
Other feature numbers of the program included: "Serenade," by Dressler, sung by John Phillips, Harold McGilgan, Ellsworth Stiles and Kenneth Goodrich. Another quartet made up of Clement Ketchum, Winfield Alexander, Alpheus Triggs and Clinton McCredy sang "The Gypsy Trail" by Tod Galloway. Bernard Fehnen gave a horn solo and in the freight scene he and LeRoy Ballieu played a duet for the trumpet and baritone.

"Pale Moon" by Frederick Knight Logan as sung by George Mecholson was perhaps the best special number of the program although his duet with Carl J. Waterman, the conductor of the glee club, "Under the Desert Star," by Hope Temple was delightful. With training and hard work, Mr. Mecholson has greatly improved his natural beautiful voice.

GREAT VERSATILITY
To point to any number sung by the whole club as the best is impossible because of the versatility with which the men's voices interpreted lullaby or war song, parody or love song. "A Father's Lullaby," by Wiske and "Music When Soft Voices Die," by Dickinson demonstrated the splendid soft quality of the club's voices, while the two pictures from Rubinstein's "Tower of Babel" and the war song from "The Cross of Fire" by Bruch showed great volume and power in their singing. In the latter which is a weird and unusual chorus number, Ellsworth Stiles, a new soloist for the club, had the impressive solo. He has a rich voice of splendid tone quality.

HONOR MEDALS

Announcement was made of the program of the honor medals which were awarded to the men. The medal is an original design of fob medal with the opening measures of the Lawrence Alma Mater as the motif. No recognition is given for one year's service on the club, but for the second year, the medal is given in bronze, for the third year in silver and for the fourth year in gold.

Clement Ketchum, Irwin Johnson and Clinton McCredy will receive the gold medal. Minnie Alexander, Paul Conrades, Chester Gauerke, and Edmund Tink will receive the silver badge while Bernard Fehnen, Allen Rice, Harold McGilgan, William Wright, George Mecholson, Paul Cary and Jack Markham will have the bronze.

NOTED MISSION WORKER WILL GIVE LECTURE HERE

Dr. Summer R. Vinton, formerly a missionary worker in Burma, will deliver a lecture on foreign mission work in First Baptist church at 7:30 Friday evening. Dr. Vinton is a noted chautauqua lecturer and has had many years of experience in foreign mission fields.

He left Burma in 1900 because of ill health and has been doing lecture work in this country since. He is one of a long line of Burma mission workers. His family has been engaged in the work for more than 550 years and is still continuing it.

Winter Still Has Some Shary Blasts On Tay

Appleton people were treated Wednesday to nearly all the varieties of weather on the weather man's bill of fare here.

Beginning with a light drizzling rain which was soon followed by a few minutes of sunshine, the weather changed into a light snow, only to pause at intervals for a few rays of sunshine and then developed a heavy gale that resembled a western blizzard. As a result Appletonians walked to work Thursday morning over snow and ice and saying uncomplimentary things about the elements.

All this confirmed the conservative persons in their belief that Old King Winter still has a mighty wallop and that it is worth while to be dressed for treatment he is likely to serve. Meanwhile marbles, baseball and a few other things will have to be interrupted a little longer.

SCHOOL BOYS TRIM PLAYGROUND TREES

The condition of the trees about Lincoln school show the result of painstaking work upon the part of four pupils who have formed themselves into a Forestry club, have taken a course in the work and will finish trimming the trees which were damaged in the storm. Pamphlets which were obtained at the Post-Crescent office formed the basis of the course. After thoroughly studying the book the boys were able to put their knowledge into use, with the result that they saved a tidy sum of money for the school by trimming the trees. By comparison with the work done by tree trimmers in the neighborhood, the boys are able to show much better results.

The "club" consists of Robert Moore and Arthur Meunster eighth grade and Lawrence Christian and Sterling Schmalz, seventh grade. They expect to have completed their work about next Monday.

Mrs. Linton Tells How Helpful Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is at This Period

Denver, Colorado.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for seven years and I cannot tell you the good it has done me. It is good for young and old and I always keep a bottle of it in the house, for I am at that time of life when it calls for Lydia E. Pinkham's help. My husband saw your ad. in the papers and said 'You have taken everything you can think of, now I want you to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.' So I let him get it, and I soon felt better and he told me 'I want you to take about six bottles.' So I did and I keep house and do all my own work and work out by the day and feel fine now. I tell every one about the Vegetable Compound, for so many of my friends thought I wouldn't get well."—Mrs. R. J. LINTON, 1850 West 33d Avenue, Denver, Colorado.

After reading letters like the above, and we are constantly publishing them, why should any woman hesitate to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she is in need of help? It brings relief where other medicines fail.

VANDENBERG WINS IN $10,000 SUIT

Vandenbroek Man is Exonerated from Accident Blame by Chippewa Falls Jury

After being out for more than two hours, the jury in the $10,000 damage action brought against A. J. Vandenberg, formerly chairman of the town of Vandenberg, and his son, on trial at Chippewa Falls since the first of the week returned a verdict Wednesday to the effect the defendants were not guilty of negligence. Contributory negligence was found on the part of the plaintiff.

The accident concerned an automobile collision in which the plaintiff, Frank Porath, was badly injured. The defendants were represented by Morgan & Johns of Appleton.

Speaks to Women
Miss Carrie Peckham, who arrived in this country recently from Japan, will speak to women in the social room of First Methodist church at 8 o'clock Friday evening. A brief reception beginning at 7:30 will precede the address.

WOMEN MUST DO IT
Every woman knows that her House has to be cleaned thoroughly every Spring. During Winter, dust, dirt and germs accumulate in the corners, under the rugs, in the curtains "in" every place. Just so with your system—it should be given a thorough cleansing, purifying every spring. HOLLISTER'S ROCKY MOUNTAIN Tea does the job slick and quick. Without fail, make every member of the family take it once-a-week during this month. Can't "be beat" as a Spring Laxative, cleanser, purifier. Especially good for women and children. — Rufus C. Markets

WHEAT AND CORN
PRICES IRREGULAR

Chicago—Grain prices closed irregular on the Chicago board of trade Thursday. After the market had ruled weak all day, a broader export demand developed just before the close causing fractional advances. The weakness was caused by a slackening of demand for export, better weather conditions, and a fear of offering of grain by farmers. Provisions were higher.

Wheat, May opened 1/2 at 1.42 1/2, and closed 1/2, July opened 1/2 at 1.25 1/2, and closed 1/2, Sept. opened unchanged at 1.13 1/2, and closed 1/2.

Corn, May, opened 1/2 at 61 1/2, and closed 1/2, July opened 1/2 at 61 1/2, and closed 1/2, Sept. opened 1/2 at 47 1/2, and closed 1/2.

OATS, May, opened unchanged at 37 1/2, and closed 1/2, July opened 1/2 at 40 1/2, and closed 1/2, Sept. opened unchanged at 42 1/2, and closed 1/2.
